HIGHER OFFICE IS PREDICTED FOR SHINGLE

Hints Scattered About as He Bids Supervisor's "Aloha;" On Way to Mainland

Hints of a possible candidacy of Robert W. Shingle for a "higher political office" were freely scattered about at last night's meeting of the board of supervisors after the mayor had accepted his resignation tendered in February and Shingle had finished his "swan song."

Member after member of the board arose and complimented the genial "Bob" on the work he had done for the board while he served, and each and every one of them included some wish for his future success that hinted at some definite plan of the retiring member.

Supervisor Charles N. Arnold was the most outspoken of Shingle's well-wishers. He has served with him on the road committee ever since he was made a member of the board.

"Other things are in store for all of us," he declared after reviewing Shingle's record on the board and the road committee in complimentary vein. "Mr. Shingle has gone through the trying fire of service on this board. If things so shape themselves that other, bigger things political come his way he will find that the time spent here will not have been wasted. All that he has done will be round to his credit. Not 'Hankering' for it."

"Mind you, I don't say that he is hankering for political office. But I do say that if he is ever picked as a candidate, this fall or any other time, he will find that he has made some true friends—friends who will get out and hustle for him, friends who will boost and work for him."

The mayor, in a letter accepting the resignation, expressed his regrets at losing Shingle and later in a complimentary address. Every member of the board, from vehement Larsen to quiet Logan, arose and expressed his regrets.

Aha wanted Shingle to reconsider his resignation while away from Honolulu, and be all ready to accept a re-appointment when he returned. Hollinger claimed that it had been the efforts of the board that had induced him to accept the appointment after he had refused it from the mayor and asked that he unite with the board in aiding the mayor to pick his successor.

Too Valuable to Lose. Horner declared that he had proved too valuable a man to be dropped by the board and said he was coming to Shingle for help on the problems of the board very often, after he returned from his trip.

Shingle, in a short reply to the mayor's letter of acceptance of his resignation, regretted that business affairs made it impossible for him to "stick it out," especially as, in his opinion, the board was going to make good and kick through. "You will not hear of me making any cheap cracks about the board of supervisors or the city government, for I know now the difficulties it has to encounter," he said. "I have been in office long enough to know that whatever shortcomings the government of Honolulu has it is not the fault of the mayor or the supervisors, but of the law."

Income of Peanut Stand. "We have been obliged to run one of the most progressive and fastest growing cities in the United States on the income of a peanut stand and under the most restricted conditions. No city on the mainland of this size is denied the right to levy its own taxes, as we are. It is a shame and makes me mad every time I think of it."

He went on to suggest that better cooperation could be secured in the board by a more earnest backing of the committees and their reports and wound up by saying that he would always be a member of the board in spirit if not in fact and wanted the members to feel free to call on him for assistance at any time.

E. J. Burkett of Lincoln, Neb., former United States senator, filed with the Iowa secretary of state his affidavit of candidacy for the republican nomination for vice-president of the United States.

Denial was made by the Belgian government that James J. Hill is to rebuild the Belgian railroads destroyed by the war.

WILL START WORK ON HOTEL STREET WIDENING SOON

Hotel street will be widened at the point just Ewa of Fort street within a short time. That much was determined by the action of the board of supervisors last night and by the stand of John Detor, owner of the Union Grill, who has purchased the Damon property at the corner affected.

The supervisors instructed the city engineer to confer with the city attorney and determine the steps necessary to acquire needed property. Detor purchased the corner property several weeks ago for $77,000. The city was almost ready at the time to start condemnation proceedings, placing a valuation of $90,000 on the corner. Now that it has changed hands and the new owner is anxious to have the job in the street taken out, the matter is much simplified. Ever since there has been a board of supervisors the widening of Hotel street has been before the city. Now work is to be started.

The city and the property owners benefited split the cost of the improvement in two, according to the frontage tax laws. City Engineer George M. Collins estimates that the cost to the city will be less than $35,000.

The property to be turned over to road purposes runs 7 feet on Hotel street and 13 feet on Fort street.

MEMO'S OF MEETING OF CITY SUPERVISORS

Makiki flume had $3900 appropriated, on first reading, for its reconstruction at last night's meeting.

H. B. Reade was given until April 18 to complete the alterations and additions to the electric light plant.

City Engineer George M. Collins was instructed to take up with the Nuuanu Cemetery Association a proposal made some time ago that Nuuanu avenue be widened from Judd street, on the Ewa side.

Supervisor Robert W. Shingle suggested that the board take steps toward the improvement of the Tantalus road by prison labor. He believes that the governor can be induced to lend the men to the city if the city will donate the equipment.

Supervisor Daniel Logan got an appropriation for $75 for purchasing agent's incidentals through after a 10-minute argument with Supervisor Charles N. Arnold. Arnold demanded that the necessity for this appropriation be investigated when an attempt was made to introduce the bill at a previous meeting. He delayed it again last night.

Notice of the death of a horse read at last night's meeting of the board of supervisors evoked a ripple of laughter. W. L. Frazee, superintendent of the lighting plant, sent a letter to the board reading as follows: "A horse being used by the electric light department died on the morning of March 10, said horse being the property of the Territory of Hawaii."

City Engineer George M. Collins was instructed to submit to the board a plan of sidewalk inspection. According to complaint of several contractors and the observation of some of the supervisors a distinctly inferior concrete mixture is being spread on new sidewalks and there will be no method of forcing the property owners to make repairs when it breaks up. The standard mixture prescribed by ordinance costs 15 cents a square foot. Mixtures that are spread for 9 to 12 cents bring greater profit to the contractor and are preferred by the short-sighted householder. They will last but two or three years, while the legal mixture will last many years.

SEATTLE IMPORTER TO INTRODUCE UKULELES IN DEPARTMENT STORES

Morris believes that as a novelty the Hawaiian instruments will have a

HUSBAND SAVED HIS WIFE

Stopped Most Terrible Suffering by Getting Her Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Denison, Texas. — "After my little girl was born two years ago I began suffering with female trouble and could hardly do my work. I was very nervous but just kept dragging on until last summer when I got where I could not do my work. I would have a chill every day and hot flashes and dizzy spells and my head would almost burst. I got where I was almost a walking skeleton and life was a burden to me until one day my husband's step-sister told my husband if he did not do something for me I would not last long and told him to get my medicine. So he got Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for me, and after taking the first three doses I began to improve. I continued its use, and I have never had any female trouble since. I feel that I owe my life to you and your remedies. They did for me what doctors could not do and I will always praise it wherever I go."
